We record every show @ the bad idea. Partly to preserve the history of the house, & partly to give people the opportunity to listen to the bands the way they were actually heard. It's not a fancy recording, just two microphones ~~put~~ hung from the ceiling, pointed at the bands. You can hear the crowd, & sometimes can't hear the band. But it's a sample of what it was like to be there. We burn the CD's ourselves & sell them for a little more than cost. The money goes into the magazine or to help us buy equipment for more shows. Because the recording quality ~~can be~~ varies ~~poor~~, we have a 'star' system to let you know what to expect.

- * - pretty bad, vocals are low, drums too loud, etc.
-  - a bit better. you can @ least hear the instruments
-  - in the middle. You can hear everything, but the qualities not so good

We record every show at the Bad Idea. Partly to preserve the history of the house + partly to give people the opportunity to listen to the bands that play here, the way they ^{were} actually ^{heard} heard them. It's not a fancy recording. Two microphones hung from the ceiling pointed at the bands. you can hear ^{the crowd} side conversations, and sometime you can't hear some of the bands. But it's a sample of what it was like to be there. ~~We're not making~~ ~~we~~ we burn the cd's ourselves + sell em for a little or cost the little bit of money we make goes back into the Magazine or to help us buy equipment for more shows.

Because it's a ~~fairly~~ simple recording process the quality of recording vary. We use a print system, ~~to help you~~ so you can kinda expect what you'll be listening to. One * means it's ~~really~~ pretty bad, the vocals are ~~low~~ low, drums are too loud guitar is quite ^{stuff like that} ~~is~~ ^{is a bit out of} better you can sorta hear what's going on.  is ^{is almost like the} ~~is~~ ^{instrument} in the middle it's pretty good but not excellent. ^{you can hear every thing but the quality is not so good} *, this is a good live recording you can hear everything + it's sounds good, but not quite perfect.  might as well have been done professionally. + of course the stars don't account for the band playing bad, breaking strings, or the audience being boring.
